

ABSTRACT

Reducing power to a minimum permissible value based on temperature of a component may permit savings in power consumption.

#510797